

Joseph P. Reagen

Mr. Reagen has eighteen years of IP litigation experience, and he currently leads the IP Group for systems, medical devices and software at Baxter Healthcare Corporation- a Fortune 200 company. He is a member of the IP Management Team and several committees to review litigation and risk management strategies. He has responsibility for several IP litigations in the U.S. and internationally, as well as managing IP portfolio development, freedom to operate investigations, and due diligence for major transactions. He has a Master of Intellectual Property and J.D. from Franklin Pierce Law Center, and a B.S in Mechanical Engineering from the University of Illinois.